Tom Rogers – Official Reference

01/03/2023

Over the period of January to February 2023, Tom Rogers assisted Tenet Consultants in successfully designing and launching a brand new 'Careers' page on our company website in time for the opening of applications to our apprenticeship scheme. I had an initial phone call with Tom to discuss ideas and sent over a design template after our conversation. From this point, Tom 'took the reigns' and within the month our new page was live on the website.

During the month, Tom kept up regular communications about his progress, always offered timescales for completion and responded to my emails promptly. If there were any issues or hold ups, he would communicate these straight away and explained how he planned to fix them. For example, he came across an issue with our navigation bar, immediately sent me a detailed email explaining the problem and went away and fixed it within a couple of days. He was extremely easy to work with, friendly and professional at all times and answered any questions I had thoroughly.

The quality of work produced was excellent and aligned with the rest of our website that has previously been designed by a professional web design company. As a company, we would not hesitate to work with Tom again and are planning on asking him to assist with other areas of our website.
